

Increasing Demand for Flexible Workplaces Fuels Regus' Growth in Seattle

Seattle, WA -- Regus, the world's largest provider of flexible workplaces, is launching one of its newest centres at World Trade Center East, 2211 Elliott Avenue, on December 5th. This location has unobstructed views of Elliott Bay. Plus, it's centrally located very close to the Seattle Waterfront, Pike Place Market and Seattle City Center. Many international companies have their headquarters nearby. Neighbors include import/export businesses, travel and transportation entrepreneurs and creative companies.

The Regus World Trade Center-East is hosting a sneak preview of the new office spaces on November 16, 2011 from 1-5 pm. Snacks and beverages will be served and parking in the Art Institute Garage will be validated. Call Hailey Reifel at 206-370-2871 for more information, driving directions or availabilities. Individual tours can be booked by calling 1-800-633-4237.

Regus operates more than 1,100 business centres across 500 cities in 91 countries. Products and services range from fully equipped offices to professional meeting rooms, business lounges and the world's largest network of video communication studios. Regus enables people to work their way, whether it's from home, on the road or from an office. Customers such as Google, GlaxoSmithKline, and Nokia join hundreds of thousands of growing small and medium businesses that benefit from outsourcing their office and workplace needs to Regus, allowing them to focus on their core activities.

Over 900,000 customers a day benefit from Regus facilities spread across a global footprint of 1,200 locations in 550 cities and 90 countries, which allow individuals and companies to work wherever, however and whenever they want to.
